NEWS AND COMMENTS.

THE greatest race of many years came off last week at the track at Sheephead Bay—the "Suburban," at which it is estimated that over $250,000 changed hands in a few minutes. It was an overwhelming surprise to turfmen, "crack" horses being left behind by an unknown "scrub."

THE Grimm Brownstone Company of Moore county—for whose development North Carolina will have chiefly to thank Col. JNO. W. HINSDALE, of Raleigh—will soon be ready to commence operations. Of the quality of the stone there can be no doubt, and it is believed that the supply is large.

IN the United States only about 7 per cent. of the women earn their own livelihood—that is, are officially classed in the lists of regular employments, though there are very few mothers of families who fail to do far more than their part as "bread-winners;" in England the proportion is 16 per cent.; in France, 48 per cent.; in Germany, 36 per cent.

IT must be remarkably gratifying to Mr. HARRISON to receive all the second-hand applause at large gatherings and conventions—that is, the tribute of a subdued hurrah, after the first enthusiasm for BLAINE has exhausted itself. BENJAMIN can't be President again in any case, but his party seems to be content that he shall receive the barren nomination—provided somebody else does not want it.

GOOD! very good! A farmer named CARR, near Greenville, N. C., brutally whipped a little orphan boy named HUDSON, placed in his care by the Oxford Orphan Asylum, and he was sentenced by the court (we wish we knew the name of the judge presiding) to pay a fine of $500, besides the sum of $300 to the Oxford Asylum and $150 to the orphan boy. Now if he fails to pay the money promptly we hope the brute will be put in jail for a time.

THOSE who have followed EDWARD BELLAMY through his celebrated work, "Looking Backward," will find and realize in "EDISON'S latest and greatest invention," the beginning of the end of all his wonderfully startling predictions. What a paradise we are destined to have here on this sin-cursed earth the most vivid imagination can scarcely conjecture. Verily the 20th century is destined to witness some amazing discoveries and developments.

THE Republican Convention of Ohio has nominated "High Tariff" MCKINLEY for Governor of the State. Well, to solidify and bring up to their utmost effort the Ohio Protection Republicans, it is a strong nomination; while, on the other hand, if the Democratic party of that great commonwealth cannot win on a plain throw-down-the glove fight on the issues involved—why, Protection is stronger than Tariff Reform in Ohio, for the time being, that's all.

WILSON was fluttering with banners, resonant with martial music, kaleidoscopic with gay uniforms, radiant with fair women and running over with patriotic enthusiasm and devotion on Wednesday, 17th inst.—the occasion being the unveiling and dedication of its handsome Confederate monument, the services being rendered ever memorable by one of Senator RANSOM'S polished and scholarly orations. There were present several companies of the State Guard, with a very large concourse of people from all the surrounding country.

FULL of years and honors, Dr. K. P. BATTLE retires from the Presidency of the State University with the welcome plaudit of his countrymen, "well done good and faithful servant." Characterized by conservatism, with a loyalty and love for the institution over whose destinies he so wisely presided, his career has been and will go down in history as conspicuous for the unbroken chain of success which has blessed our State University for so many years past. He accepts the Chair of History, for which he is peculiarly fitted in every way, and upon which the University is to be congratulated as well as the students.

THE published statement by the Secretary of the Treasury Department at Washington of the condition of the finances of the United States is a sad commentary upon our republican form of government, and places a stigma upon the escutcheon of the Republican party that "time and tide," combined with all the oratory of the 19th century, can never erase. At present there is in the Treasury a surplus of only $1,234,000, the lowest in the history of the country. But the story does not stop here: the next statement will show a deficit of $600,000, while the expenditures so far this month have been over $8,000,000 in excess of the receipts.

"FRITZ" EMMET, the well-known German-dialect comedian, died at the "Storm King" hotel, at Cornwall-on-the-Hudson, on the 15th inst., aged 50 years. He was one of the best known and, in some respects, one of the most remarkable actors on the American stage. He created his own dramatic specialty, in which he was as strong in his way as JEFFERSON in "Rip Van Winkle;" and, with a fine person and gracious, debonnair manner on the stage, "Our Fritz," as he was affectionately termed, was the idol of the women and children. From early manhood he was given over to the most fearful excess in liquor-drinking—consigned for a time to an inebriate asylum; and yet, unstruggling victim to this vice to such an extent as would have absolutely ruined most men, and left them in the ditch, in his seasons of sobriety theatre-managers courted him for engagements at his own price, immense crowds flocked to hear him, and, dying, he left a fortune of nearly $1,000,000.

FOUND BY HIS FAMILY.

A Soldier at Last Regains the Sanity He Lost at Shiloh.

New York World.]

All doubt as to the identity of the poor half-demented old soldier, the pathetic story of whose wanderings from poor-house to poor-house since he was reported killed at the battle of Shiloh has been told in the newspapers, has now been fully cleared up.

Though his faithful old wife and other relatives felt sure they recognized him as William Newby, his own memory was very weak and indistinct at first. There were neighbors, too, who doubted still that the veritable William Newby had come back. They had cause when they thought of the long-dead soldier lying in the Shiloh trenches and accounted for on the army records as William Newby. They had deeper cause to doubt when they saw the strange wreck claimed to be William Newby look into the faces of his wife and children; and mutter sadly: "I do not know you. I was never married."

But on Saturday, says a recent letter from Mill Shoals, Ill., the awakening came. Standing opposite his white-haired wife, with her voice still sounding in his ears and the familiar scenes of his boyhood spreading before his eyes, memory returned to William Newby in a flash.

"Pheb," said the poor old wreck, calling his wife by the dear name he had murmured in farewell thirty years before, "I know you now. You are my wife, and I have come home to you and the children."

And the faithful woman, who had been waiting hopefully, but fearfully, for such a recognition, burst out sobbing and threw her arms around her husband's neck.

"I knew you the very moment I set eyes on you, William," she cried. "I would have known you anywhere."

On Sunday last there was a big dinner at the Newby farm. The entire Newby family was there. During the progress of the meal the old man laid down his knife and fork, and looked long and earnestly at his wife.

"I declare, Pheb," he said, "I don't believe you've changed a bit since the day I left you to go to the front. It must have been the fault of my old eyes that I didn't know you at first."

During the day following the sudden return of his memory Newby had evinced the most insatiate curiosity as to the life of his family in the many years of his absence, seeking to trace a resemblance between the children of 1861 and the middle-aged men and women of 1891. He was especially interested in hearing how his wife had "managed" as a widow, and whether his loved ones had known "hard times" while he wandered half-witted and helpless.

Mrs. Newby is still hardly able to talk of her husband's homeless wanderings without tears.

"I can stand all the story well enough," she said, "except when I think of his having been in the White County poor-house right here, three miles from his own home, for eighteen months before we found him. That seems cruel almost."

"And its the poorest poor-house I struck in all my experience," said Newby, laughing, "even if it is in my own county."

It transpires that about two years ago Newby drifted through his native county. Within two miles of his own farm his own nephew took the pitiful-looking tramp into his house and gave him a good dinner. Newby told his wife of this Sunday, adding:

"And you know, Pheb, everything seemed mighty familliar to me then, but somehow or other I couldn't straighten it out, and I went away just like a stranger."

Newby is now able to tell a lucid story of what happened to him after he fell at Shiloh. He was first shot in the leg and then in the head, the latter wound rendering him unconscious. When he again knew what was going on he was a prisoner on the way to Andersonville. He found he had been taken from the field the very night of the fight. After his release from Andersonville came the long years of half-crazed wandering and poor-house existence. Finally, just how long ago Newby does not remember, there crept into his mind a feeling that he must "get back to Illinois."

It is now known that the dead soldier lying in the trenches at Shiloh, for thirty years thought to be Newby, is the missing Hy Morris, of Company C, Fortieth Illinois Volunteers. His mystery has been cleared with that of William Newby.

Her Lover a Felon.

St. Louis Globe Democrat.]

"I witnessed a most touching and dramatic incident the other day," says M. J. Madden, of Chicago. "It was at the Union depot. Among the passengers leaving the train just in from the south was a distinguished-looking old gentleman, and clinging to his arm was one of the most beautiful girls I ever saw in my life.

"To take the Joliet train there came down the stone steps a burly officer in citizens clothes, and by his side was the once society favorite, George Lipe, convicted of forging his mother's name to valuable documents, who, in spite of all the influence brought to bear, must serve his term in the penitentiary.

"A steel band was about the prisoner's wrist, attached to another about the officer's wrist. The two couples I have described met directly in front of the big gates.

"'Oh, papa,' exclaimed the girl, as her face lighted up with pleasure, 'here is George come to meet us after our long journey.'

"She rushed forward to meet the convict, and impetuously grasped both his hands. The shock the sight of the manacles produced was positively frightful. Her great eyes opened, her face blanched, she tried to speak but could not, and then she fell fainting into the arms of her father, who bore her to a carriage.

"The convict, during this ordeal, was a pitiable-looking object. He uttered no word, but as he passed through the gate I saw his lower lip covered with blood. He had bitten through it.

"The girl, I learned, was the felon's fiancee, who had been in Mexico all winter."

THE KINETOGRAPH.

Edison's Latest and Greatest Invention.

Charlotte Chronicle.]

The world has learned not to be surprised at Edison the inventor, but it is amazed at his inventions. He is the greatest inventive genius of his time or any other time perhaps. Two years ago he told the world that he would invent an instrument that would convey from one object to another both sound and light that is to say, a combination of photography and phonography. He even went so far as to say that the time would come when we might sit at our firesides in a distant city, and see and hear distinctly Edwin Booth playing Hamlet at the Casino in New York. Edison was promptly told that he talked too much, and was admonished to hush. The great inventor was stung. But read his own account of his most wonderful invention:

"The machine starts, moves, uncloses, stops, takes a photograph, closes, starts, uncloses, stops, takes another and so on, and forty-six of these are recorded every second."

And this process can be kept up for thirty minutes without a pause. So 2,760 photographs can be taken each minute and 82,800 every half hour. Thus the full representation of, say, an opera, the movement on the stage and music can be recorded by this novel machine.

Mr. Edison has no doubt that he will live to see an opera recorded and reproduced by the Kinetograph. Said he:

"I take, for example, a dress rehearsal of 'Erminie.' I will place my machine on a table in front of the stage. The two agencies, the Phonograph and the Kinetograph, will work together in harmony and with a continuous capacity of thirty minutes. Both will start as the curtain rises. The phonograph will record the music, while the kinetograph will record the motions of the performers at the rate of forty six impressions per second. This will give a continuous picture of what is going on on the stage. Afterward the phonographic slips will be developed, replaced in the machine and a projecting lens will be substituted for the phonograph lens. Then the reproducing part of the phonograph will be adjusted, and by means of a calcium light the whole effect can be reproduced at life-size on a white curtain in front of an audience. The original scene will appear to their eyes as true as life. They will see the singers before them, and all their movements and gestures will appear as if they were actually on the stage. The colors will not appear, but otherwise you will see and hear the opera as you see it at the Casino. The machine is, in fact, a mechanical eye."

Imagine for a moment the possibilities of such an invention, if successful. Of course every American citizen would have a machine in his house, and would form a connection with his Church, the State Legislature and the Congress. Life would certainly be worth living in a house with a Kinetograph.

For aught we know this may be the future form of the newspaper. It will be in order to subscribe for the Kinetograph.

Ideal Home of a Millionaire.

New York Times.]

The story that C. P. Huntington proposes to make his home on the Pacific slope is discredited by his business associates in this city. Mr. Huntington is building a residence at Fifth avenue and Fifty-seventh street which will cost him in the neighborhood of $1,500,000, and he has frequently asserted that his chief aim in life was to get a comfortable home and enjoy the remainder of his life with his children. Some idea of his notion of "a comfortable home" may be gathered from a remark that he made to the writer not long ago. "I am building a house," said he, "that may not be as pretentious as some others, but it will have all the comforts and conveniences that modern society requires. In my home I shall enjoy not only privacy and domesticity but every convenience that the most elaborately equipped hotel can afford. My carriage will land my friends in the house and not in the street; my kitchen will perform its functions at an altitude where no cooking odors can reach or offend the occupants of the house, and seated in my study I shall be able to communicate with any part of the outside world."

What They Could Do.

Buffalo Truth.]

It is claimed that John Rockefeller could give every man, woman and child in the United States $2 each, and still have left the modest sum of 1,000,000 with which to start a peanut-stand. William Waldorf Astor could do the same thing, while our own Jay Gould could give $1.60 each, and have left 8,000,000 with which to sink a well for more water. It is also stated that Mr. Jones and Mr. Brown, who work ten hours each day, can only give their wives $4.50 once a year, and Mr. Smith who works from 6 A. M. to 6 P. M. upon a section on the railroad at $1.10 per day, and supports a wife and five small children, says he would be a financial wreck if he squandered a darned cent.

Better Things Ahead.

Christain Advocate.]

The old men to-day have seen wonderful changes. They have lived in an eventful period of the world's history. But changes are not a thing of the past. More are coming. Greater ones will yet be seen. The grandest eras of history are ahead. The greatest reforms are yet to be brought about. The most marvelous spiritual effects will be witnessed by those who are children to-day, or who are yet unborn. We see by faith such blessed victories of the cross ahead that we wish we could begin life over and have a share in them. Happy is the lot of the young people who have the prospect of living and working for God and man the next fifty years.

A YEAR'S BUILDING.

What Was Done in the Leading Cities during 1890.

The New Haven (Conn.) Record is in receipt of the reports of the building departments in 22 leading cities in the United States for the year 1890, and we present the figures herewith in tabular form. In these 22 cities during the year 1890 were erected 77,398 buildings costing in the aggrate $295,329,831, as against 69,283 buildings, costing $261,054,000 in 1889. Although we have not the figures at hand, we venture to say that last year saw more new buildings erected in the country at a greater outlay than any previous year in her history. This was due both to the natural growth and to the prosperous times that made heavy real estate investments possible and desirable. Following is the table:

	NO.	COST.
Baltimore,	1883	$ 2,466,678
Boston,	4750	30,785,000
Brooklyn,	4355	12,026,412
Charleston,	105	329,775
Chicago,	11608	47,322.100
Cleveland,	4295	5,107,107
Denver,	3400	12,835,394
Duluth,	357	2,381,154
Indianapolis,	1800	5,500,000
Louisville,	1717	2,937,970
Minneapolis,	3624	7,210,076
Newark,	1554
New Haven,	561	1,649,060
New Orleans,	2000	1,621,186
New York,	5969	82,089,062
Omaha,	1639	5,616,955
Philadelphia,	12278	26,407,830
Pittsburg,	3174	7,079,567
St. Louis,	4183	13,903,800
St. Paul,	3174	9,548,272
Washington,	4523	7,752,733
Wilmington, Del.,	449	769,700
Total,	77398	$295,329,831

Philadelphia leads the whole country with 12,278 new structures, with Chicago close behind with 11,608. Both cities, however, are far behind New York in the value of the new buildings. As is well known, the comparatively small number of buildings erected in New York—5,969—and the heavy cost—$85,089,062—is due to the large number of blocks and other expensive structures built there. The Chicago report gives the number of feet frontage of the new buildings as 266,284. In other words, the new buildings scattered over Chicago's 185 square miles in 1890, if placed in a row, would extend for over 50 miles. This would make the buildings cost less than a million dollars a mile—about $175 a foot. The report further states, however, that about 25 per cent. should be added to the cost for the undervaluation of contractors. This would make the cost $59,152,600.

The Little Republic of Andorra.

Boston Transcript.]

The little republic of Andorra, which has perched in content and obscurity upon the southern slope of the Pyrenees for 1,100 years, bade fair but a month ago to rub along another 1,100 years, with its rustic population of 12,000 drawing its sustenance from the soil in the good old way. But now M. Blanc, who runs the gambling resort at Monte Carlo, and pays the local prince $600,000 a year, besides keeping up his police and street departments—having been refused a renewal of his license, talks of buying Andorra in the same fashion. The climate is colder than that of Monte Carlo, but Blanc thinks it will do.

Finger Rings.

New York Sun.]

There are two precious stones that tend to make the hand look extremely white, and these are the emerald and the sapphire. Women, more than ever, are wearing rings on their fingers. How many know where the first ring came from? Straight from fairy land. A merry sprite who loved a little fairy danced with her on the green until he was drunk with moonshine, and he lost his ring. It was found by a peasant girl, and she gave it to her lover, and these two were happy ever after. That's the story of the first ring. One hopes it will be the story of every ring that is ever given for dear love's sake.

Weight on Various Planets.

Chicago Times.]

On Jupiter, which is a much larger and heavier body than the earth, a man would weigh about 484 pounds whose weight on the earth would be 200 pounds. This man would weigh 218 pounds on Saturn. Coming to the smaller bodies, we find that he would weigh less than on earth. His 200 pounds would shrink to 174 on Venus, to 92 on Mercury, to 60 on Mars, and to 30 on the moon, while on the little asteroids, or telescopic planets revolving between Mars and Jupiter his weight would be from 2 to 4 pounds only. The matter depends on the mass and attractive force of the planet.

THE OBSERVER.

Z. W. WHITEHEAD, SOLE OWNER.

FAYETTEVILLE, N. C.

Established in 1825 by E. J. Hale, Sr.

Published Every Thursday at 19 Green Street (Observer Building.)

Z. W. WHITEHEAD, } Editors.
J. H. MYROVER, }

"The Observer" is the second oldest paper in the State; is read by nine-tenths of the reading people of Cumberland, and circulates extensively throughout the counties of Robeson, Richmond, Moore, Harnett, Bladen, Columbus, New Hanover, Pender, Duplin, Sampson, Johnston, Anson, Chatham Montgomery and Stanly, and Marion and Marlboro counties, S. C.

IT DOES HIM HONOR.

We have not the pleasure of personally knowing Rev. Baylus Cade, who, up to a few days since, was editor of the Progressive Farmer, and we have no intention of indulging in any criticism of the editorial management of the paper during his regime; but we cannot refrain from expressing our admiration of the motives which prompted his retirement from the editorial chair. With a man of Mr. Cade's character and profession we must accept as absolutely true any utterance of his in this regard, and even those who differ with him in his view of a great political measure cannot withhold their respect for his consistency, firmness and candor. In the issue of the 23rd ult. this paragraph occurs in his valedictory article:

After a careful and patient study of the Sub-Treasury bill, I am convinced that its enactment into law would be disastrous to the country, and especially so to the agricultural interests of the country. Holding this view, I cannot write one word in favor of that bill. The dominant sentiment in the Alliance upon this measure is in irreconcilable conflict with my views; and the only manly and honorable course left open for me is to retire, and let another editor take charge of the paper whose views are in harmony with those of the friends of the Sub-Treasury bill.

More of this determination to preserve self-respect, and to make the pen only the vehicle for one's honest convictions would elevate journalism, and it is the lack of this spirit which has degraded the personality and individuality of far too many of the great metropolitan papers, while inherent coarseness and easy venality have replaced sturdy independence and character.

Not many years ago the attention of the reading public of North Carolina was attracted to a clash of opinion between the owner of one of the ablest and most influential of the daily papers of the State and its editor-in-chief. The proprietor felt constrained to oppose the prohibition movement, while his editor—with that straightforwardness of character and positiveness of expression which gave no uncertain ring to his sentiments—was the warm advocate of what he deemed a great moral reform. The journal founded by its owner's energies and guided to a proud position among its contemporaries by his directing hand must do no discredit to the courage of his own convictions, but, too, its high character depended upon the unsmirched integrity of thought of him who controlled its editorial columns.

There was a compromise in courtesy but none of principle:—and the patrons of the paper were given to know in a few graceful words that, while the attitude of the paper on the question of prohibition was demanded as a matter of self-respect, the editor reserved the right to the espousal and expression of his own views on the subject. We venture to say that this manliness and sincerity was far from weakening the influence of the paper in question.

However, it is not to be denied that ordinarily it is much better that all the editorial staff of a newspaper should be in unqualified and hearty accord with its policy, and that the resignation of Rev. Baylus Cade from his position on the Progressive Farmer is not only due to his own dignity but is a step in consonance with what might be regarded as a just demand on the part of the members of the Farmers' Alliance of North Carolina. Believing as they do that the provisions of the proposed sub-treasury bill would inure to their material interests, it is but fair that the conduct and management of their organ should be under the control of one who can without hesitancy or lukewarmness throw himself into the advocacy of a measure generally considered so indispensable to their welfare.

ISSUES OF THE DAY.

The Republican State Convention of Ohio, after making its nominations and disposing of the serious business for which it had assembled the other day, indulged in a little of the customary "gammon and gush," but "omitted the usual resolution of endorsement of Senator Sherman—at the latter's request." Some men have a horror of irony.

Ex-Senator McDonald, of Indiana, died at his home in Indianapolis on Sunday last, aged about 72 years. He had been almost continuously in public life for more than forty years, entering the 31st Congress in 1849, after ably serving his State in both branches of its legislature; he was the Democratic gubernatorial candidate in Indiana against Oliver P. Morton in 1864, but, in the great tide of Republican feeling then sweeping the country, was defeated by the grim old "War Governor;" in 1874 he was elected to the Senate of the United States—though not without strenuous opposition within his party on account of his well-known hard-money ideas—and throughout his term was conspicuous as a broad-gauged politician and an able, well-poised leader.

Commencement of Lumber Bridge High School—A Very Large Crowd—Splendid Sermon—Sparkling Address—Brilliant Entertainment.

For the Observer.]

A large and intelligent crowd assembled on Thursday to hear the sermon of Bishop Rondthaler, who is a man of prepossessing personal appearance, pleasant address and most excellent voice. He was presented by Rev. Mr. Law, and won the good graces of all present by his opening remarks eulogistic of the Scotch people, with whom he had been pleasantly associated, both here and in the Old World.

His manner is easy and quite pleasing, his enunciation free and very distinct, and his delivery charming. His sermon was one of the most delightful, instructive, practical and powerful we have heard in many years. He summarized the dangers that threaten the Church, the State and the family circle—such as strikes, immigration, Catholicism, communism, and especially bad or questionable church morals. He believed in keeping the escutcheon of the church pure and free from any frivolity or anything but purity and piety. He recommended as the pure and simple remedy love and obedience to God's precepts.

He preached 45 minutes, and charmed his audience. Among the ministers present, we noted Revs. P. R. Law, J. S. Black and J. M. Clark of the Presbyterian church; Revs. Johnson, Cobb and McGugan of the Baptist, and Rev. S. J McLeod of the Methodist church. The music by the choir was highly creditable, and the "Glory Chorus" was superb, and Bishop Rondthaler considered it most beautiful.

After a sumptuous dinner, which all seemed to enjoy, the large audience reassembled to hear the address by Col. McLean. Although the Colonel had had but short notice in which to get up his address, and though quite unwell, yet he fully met the expectations of his many friends and added fresh laurels to his brow.

His subject was "Success in Life," and it was replete with fine figures, strong practical common-sense, deep thought, profound research, sparkling wit and rich humor. It was all that could be desired, and if the speaker had been in his usual good health, so he could have put his characteristic vim and fire into it, he would have added still more brilliancy to his chaplet.

At night the second division of exercises by the pupils began. This audience was much larger than during the day, many estimating it at 800 to 1,000. It presented quite an imposing appearance, and the principal of the school felt an inward pleasure in the belief that he had a programme adequate to the occasion. It was opened by the choir in the rendition in superb style of Handel's Grand Hallelujah Chorus, which it is said has never been sung before by a class in North Carolina except at Salem. This chorus is beautiful and sublime as well as most difficult, and much credit is due the class here for their laudable efforts. Mr. A. M. Currie and Miss Mickely are especially to be congratulated in getting this chorus up. It was sung at the Peace Jubilee in Boston, in 1872, by twenty thousand voices, with a prelude of one thousand instruments. Miss Mickely deserves much praise for the musical part of the entertainment, all of which showed fine judgment, careful selection, good taste and careful preparation.

The literary consisted of comic and serious speeches and dialogues, and were intermingled with the music so as to be most entertaining. A shower of rain disturbed this evening's entetainment and scattered the large audience, and yet despite wind and rain the audience returned and heard the programme through. This commencement has been pronounced by many to be the best ever given here, and Bishop Rondthaler laughed himself hoarse at the humorous speeches and dialogues, and said he never saw a more entertaining programme or greater interest manifested by an audience.

Thus ended one of the most prosperous scholastic years for this school, and its future seems quite bright.

West End Hotel Company.

It is very pleasant to see the genuine hearty notice which the press in the State is giving the great sale of seventy-seven selected lots by the West End Hotel Company on July 1st, at Winston, N. C. The fact is that the people of the State have got unbounded confidence in the town of Winston. It has made itself without the aid of outside money, and it is able to hold its own and push ahead, so that money judiciously put into real estate there will make sure and large profits, there can be very little doubt of that, and the good opinion that is entertained of the town would make it if it had less substantial merit than it has.

Another point. This seems to be North Carolina's year, and we want to see our own people put money into our own ventures so as to keep it at home, and when other people see the faith that we have in it they are going to put some of their money along with it. It is the only sure way to get outside capital. The lots that are offered for sale are very near the splendid new hotel, and we have no doubt there will be a great many purchasers on hand when they are sold.

The lots are carefully examined in detail by a committee of three specially qualified for the work, and the price of each lot is fixed.

The plan of selling them seems to be a very good one. The would-be purchaser selects his lot and enters his name for it. If more than ten people apply for the same lot it is put up at public auction and sold to the highest bidder. If more than one or less than ten, the plan is that all subscribers to the lot decide amongst themselves by lot to whom this lot shall go. The books will be closed on July 1st at 2 o'clock. A good many names have already been entered.

Captain Alexander on the Third Party.

Charlotte Chronicle.]

In reply to a question as to what he thought of the prospects of the new party in North Carolina, Captain Alexander said he had heard much about it, but was not able to locate it as taking shape anywhere in the State. He felt sure that it would accomplish nothing in North Carolina.

Will the 52nd Congress settle the silver question? The House will pass a free coinage bill before Christmas, and it will become a law if the Republicans in the Senate do not amend by striking out the free coinage of silver of foreign countries. So the silver question is likely to figure in the next campaign

The Captain is of the opinion that if Mr. Cleveland is nominated he cannot possibly carry the States of Virginia, North Carolina and Georgia, and may possibly lose two other Southern States. He thinks Hill is more available because he has the gift of riding astride of all questions and keeping the people in ignorance as to where he is. The West has developed no Democrat of sufficient ability for the race.

Condition of the Crops for the Week Ending June 20th, 1891.

CENTRAL OFFICE, RALEIGH, N. C.

The reports of correspondents of the Weekly Weather Crop Bulletin, issued by the North Carolina Experiment Station and State Weather Service for the week ending Friday, June 19th, 1891, show that the weather during the entire week has been the most favorable experienced for a long time. The temperature has been considerably in excess, sunshine abundant, and towards the latter part of the week occasional showers have prevailed generally. In consequence crops have made marked improvement. Grass is getting under control somewhat, though still very abundant. The wheat harvest now progressing has prevented farmers from devoting much time to the cultivation of crops. Farm labor is reported difficult to obtain. Of crops generally, cotton shows the least improvement; it is not all chopped yet, and stand continues poor. Tobacco has made a fine start. The wheat harvest will probably be completed next week; the yield will be a good average and of excellent quality. Another favorable week will enable farmers to bring their work nearly up to date, and will give a better outlook to the crop prospects. The condition of crops averages about the same now in all districts.

Death of Gov David S. Reid, at Reidsville, N. C.

REIDSVILLE, N. C., June 19.—Ex-Governor David S. Reid died this morning at his home in this place.

David Settle Reid was born on April 19th, 1813, in Rockingham county, studied law and was admitted to practice in 1843.

In 1834 he was elected Senator from Rockingham, and was re-elected continuously until 1840.

From 1843 to '47 he served in the Congress of the United States with great acceptability to his constituents.

In 1848, without his knowledge, he was nominated for Governor, and was defeated by a small majority.

In 1850, when he had positively declined, he was again nominated and was elected, after a brilliant canvass, as the first Democratic Governor of the State.

He was an advocate of free suffrage, and finally triumphed in his doctrine.

For sometime past he has lived in retirement, and has not come out among the people to any extent.

From Wrightsville to Morehead.

Wilmington Messenger.]

There is a movement on foot having in view the establishment of a line of steamers from Wrightsville to Morehead City. The movement has been under consideration among some of our capitalists for some time, and begins now to assume definite shape and proportion. The idea, as far as has been developed, and as far as we have been able to learn, is to purchase or have built a line of light-draft steamers to ply through the different Sounds from Wrightsville to Morehead City; to have craft that can make the trip in six or seven hours, without going out to sea at all, and to have accommodations for passengers as well as freight.

These are the plans, so far as we have heard them explained, but before many weeks we hope to give a more complete account of the enterprise. It must result beneficially to all concerned.

State Fruit Fair.

Greensboro Record.]

The ninth annual fair of the North Carolina State Horticultural Society will be held in Greensboro August 4—5, 1891, and promises to be the most attractive and successful fruit fair ever held in the State.

Over $500 in cash premiums will be awarded—besides a number of special premiums. All to be open to the State

An excursion from Indiana will be run by that veteran excursionist, Addison Coffin, a Guilford man, and many of the sons and daughters of the sires of Guilford boys will be present.

Prof. H. E. Vandemon, chief of Pomology of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, will be present.

Prof. Chas. D. McIver will deliver the annual address.

Penitentiary Finances.

RALEIGH, N. C., June 18.—Maj. P. F. Faison, President of the Board of Directors of the penitentiary, to-day made to Gov. Holt a report of the earnings and expenses of the prison for the quarter ending May 31st, 1891. The earnings for March were $15,457.28; April, $16,676.56; May, $18,792.44. Expenses for March, $15,381.65; April, $19,361.54; May, $15,163.33. Excess of earnings over expenses, $1,019.76.

Alliance Mass Meetings.

Progressive Farmer.]

A grand Alliance mass meeting is to be held at Goldsboro on Saturday, the 27th of this month; Senator Peffer of Kansas and other prominent speakers will be present. This meeting is for the eastern section of our State. Another one will be held in Charlotte on Wednesday, the 26th day of August.

WINSTON-SALEM,

The Present and Permanent Commercial Metropolis and Industrial Centre of the Old North State.

SHE NOW HAS ONE FACTORY FOR EVERY 140 PEOPLE IN TOWN.

There are 10,000 more people in the twin cities now than in 1880—a 200 per cent. increase. This growth was made without any artificial aids, and represents just that many more manufacturers, business men and wage workers. Undeveloped coal fields, immense deposits of magnetic iron ore and acres of lime cliffs in the neighborhood, suggest possibilities in iron industries which are demonstrated in the development of new towns everywhere in the South.

WINSTON-SALEM

IS ON THREE TRUNK-LINES OF RAILROAD, AND ALREADY ENJOYS:

Electric Lights, Electric Street Railways, Water-Works, Telephone Exchange, two Fire Companies with Steamers, Mineral Springs, etc. Factories, store and residences are being completed at the rate of three per week, and this is far short of demand. Terrritory tributary to the city—entire Piedmont North Carolina and Southwestern Virginia, while railroads give it connections with all important lines of road North, South and West.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

Novelty Works.

Gen. A. G. Brady, of this place, has purchased of Messrs. Sutton & Henzi the Novelty Works, in the vicinity of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway passenger depot, for which he hopes soon to have an occupant.

Bound Over to Court.

Mr. E. F. Moore, late president of the defunct People's National Bank, was arrested and tried here Tuesday, charged with getting money under false pretenses, and was bound over to the Superior Court in a $200 bond.

Remarkably Fine.

We make our acknowledgments to Mrs. W. E. Kyle for a basketful of decidedly the finest Irish potatoes of home production which we have seen and enjoyed eating for many years. In size and quality they are a remarkable triumph of skilled gardening, and we only regret that we have not been informed of the variety of potato and the mode of cultivation.

A Strong Company.

The Southern Building and Loan Association, with headquarters at Huntsville, Ala., has organized a branch association in Fayetteville. The officers are:

W. W. Cole, President.
E. A. Poe, Vice-President.
Rev. D. N. McLean, Secretary.
J. B. Troy, Treasurer.
Sutton & Cook, Attorneys.

This is one of the oldest and strongest companies in the South.

Moonlight Excursion.

The steamer Murchison, with Capt. R. H. Tomlinson in charge, took a party of about one hundred and fifty or two hundred excursionists down the river last night to Cedar creek; returning, arrived at the wharf here at 12 o'clock. All on board expressed themselves as delighted with the trip. The air was fresh and bracing, and the winds just stiff enough to make it exceedingly pleasant, while the music was good. The proceeds went to the F. I. L. I. Cornet Band and amounted to about $75,00.

Interesting Meeting.

There will be a very interesting meeting at the Presbyterian Church to-night, at which will be present Rev. Dr. Hoge, of Wilmington, Rev. Alex. Sprunt, Rev. C. A. Munroe, Rev. J. A. Craig, Rev. Dr. H. G. Hill, Rev. W. E. McIlwaine—composing the ministers of the Synodical Evangelistic Committee—and during the session interesting speeches may be expected from Rev. Dr. Hoge and Rev. C. A. Munroe, whom we are authorized to announce definitely, while others may perhaps follow. The public are cordially invited to be present.

A Bright, Pure Life Closed.

Many a heart in Fayetteville ached poignantly at the mournful news received from Lumberton a few days since—the death, on Saturday, 13th inst., of Mrs. W. Foster French (nee Miss Ellen Fuller). Here sped on, golden-winged, the days of her bright youth and lovely womanhood, and from our midst, where she had been the light and life of many fond and cherishing homes, she went out to the joys, and cares, and responsibilities of maturer years, but leaving behind a pleasant memory of her winning and gracious qualities. Our cordial sympathies are tendered to the sorrowing husband and family of the deceased.

The Big Lot Sale at Winston.

Mr. W. A. Gattis has been spending a few days in Fayetteville in the interest of the grand auction sale of lots in Winston on the 1st day of July proximo, by the West End Hotel and Land Company of that flourishing town, and tells us that several moneyed men of Fayetteville have become interested in the fortunes made out of Winston real estate of late, who will be present at the sale next week to try their hands. A three-column advertisement elsewhere tells of some of the advantages offered by Winston-Salem for capitalists seeking investment. The railroad fare from this place and return has been fixed at $5.85. Tickets on sale Tuesday, June 30th; good returning until July 4th.

The Railroad's New President.

At a meeting of the Directors of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway Company, at Greensboro on Friday, 19th inst., Dr. W. A. Lash, of Stokes county, was elected President of the road to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the lamented Julius A. Gray.

In the prime of physical life and in the full maturity of his intellectual faculties and business energies, Dr. Lash brings to the acquittal of the new responsibilities which he has assumed the ripe experience of an active and successful career as a "man of affairs," during which he has repeatedly demonstrated his financial capacity and great ability in the management of large moneyed interests. These qualities—joined to his intense love for his State and section, and his abiding sympathy with every move in its material development—promise to fit him fully for the position into which he has just been inducted.

The Jefferson Davis Monument Meeting.

Complying with a previous announcement, many of our people—young and old, male and female—met in Williams Hall last Thursday afternoon for the purpose of taking the initiatory steps looking to the securing of subscriptions to the Jefferson Davis Monument fund. On motion of Col. T. H. Sutton, Hon. Jas. C. MacRae was made Chairman and Z. W. Whitehead Secretary. The chair thereupon announced the meeting ready for business, whereupon Col. W. J. Green moved, and it was carried, that a committee of two ladies and one gentleman be appointed in each of the seven wards of the city to canvass the town. At this juncture Dr. T. D. Haigh offered an amendment, which was accepted, that one or more persons be appointed from each township throughout the county to canvass for subscriptions to the fund, and that the committees from the country and the different wards of the city meet jointly with the citizens of Fayetteville and surrounding country at an adjourned meeting, to be held in Williams Hall on Thursday night at 8:30 o'clock, June 25th, 1891, when and where a line of action will be agreed upon for the guidance of the committees, speeches made, etc. On motion, the chair appointed Mr. Walter Leak, Col. J. A. Pemberton and Capt. A. B. Williams a committee to wait on and request the F. I. L. I. Cornet Band to furnish music for the Thursday night meeting, which the band has kindly agreed to do. On further motion the meeting adjourned to meet in Williams Hall Thursday night, June 25th, 1891.

THE COMMITTEES.

We append herewith a list of the committees appointed in pursuance of the resolution referred to above to raise funds in aid of the erection of the monument, and who, by all means, should be present to-night:

Fayetteville—1st Ward—Rev. E. C. Sell, Mrs. A E. Rankin, Miss Sadie Jones.
2nd Ward—B. E. Sedberry, Mrs. H. I. McDuffie, Miss Etta Brown.
3rd Ward—H. L. Cook, Mrs. D. A. McMillan, Miss Sallie Whitfield.
4th Ward—Dr. J. A. Hodges, Mrs. Wilbur G. Hall, Miss Laura Glover.
5th Ward—Col. T. H. Sutton, Mrs. W. A. Robeson, Miss Kate D. McKethan.
6th Ward—Maj. W. F. Campbell, Mrs. N. A. Sinclair, Miss Fannie Strange.
7th Ward—Capt. J. K. Kyle, Mrs. Hector Wade, Miss Alice Jones.

Cross Creek Township—Capt. J. H. Robinson, Mrs. S. J. Hinsdale, Miss Emma D. Murchison.

Seventy-First—Capt. J. A. McPherson, Mrs. A. D. McGill, Miss Mamie McDuffie.

Rockfish—A. A. Harrington, Jr., Mrs. Dr. McKinnon, Miss Hattie Shaw.

Cedar Creek—Henry E. Smith, Mrs. Jonathan Evans, Miss Mamie King.

Carver's Creek—Hon. W. L. Williams, Mrs. Col. Green, Miss —— McBryde.

Black River—Walter J. Smith, Mrs. Jas. H. McNeill, Miss Lilly Bain.

Beaver Dam—Rev. D. S. Bullard, Mrs. Street Brewer, Miss Hattie Hall.

Gray's Creek—Daniel Marsh, Mrs. Ab. Gainey, Miss Annie Evans.

Flea Hill—H. A. King, Mrs. Alex. McNeill, Miss Alice Devane.

Quewhiffle—Murdoch Gillis, Mrs. J. A. Blue, Miss Bella McRae.

Little River—J. Hector Smith, Mrs. W. M. Gaddie, Miss Annie Baker.

Now, in conclusion, we would again urge our people—rich and poor, old and young, male and female—to turn out en masse, at Williams' Opera House to-night, to do honor and pay homage to the memory and virtues of the grandest man of this or any other age, the Hon. Jefferson Davis. In the dark dungeon cells of Fortress Monroe, at the cost of untold and indescribable humiliation and suffering as well as impairment to health—manacled and shackled, and separated from home and friends and all that was near and dear, he bore the sins of the Confederacy—in chains and fetters—with such forbearance and manliness and christian fortitude as commanded the respect and challenged the admiration of all mankind. He believed that he was right and likewise the cause he so gallantly and bravely espoused was just, and from the first act in that bloody drama to the closing scenes of his life in this world—nearly thirty years after—he never conceded one inch, nor wavered one hair's breadth from his convictions of his "duty to country, God and native land"—be it said to his honor and glory forever!

Yes, the purpose and object of the meeting are alike laudable and praiseworthy; such as appeal to the unselfish patriotism of every man, woman and child, south of Mason and Dixon's line.

As another has so well remarked: "Do you doubt his tact, skill, strategy and statesmanship, as President of the Southern Confederacy? Then go ask the men who were best acquainted with those times and know to what ends he was forced and what means he devised and adopted. Go ask the rivers and bays of the Old Dominion State that whisper his greatness to the wailing sea. Go ask her mountains—gigantic spectators to that tragedy—who was the star actor in those scenes. Go sit at the foot of her sighing pines, and listen to nature's sweetest orchestra as it hymns his requiem and tells of his glory and fame."

Then imagine the feeling and indignation of the Army of Northern Virginia—though shattered, half-starved and decimated—at the cowardly and tyrranical part played by the Federal Government when it insulted a brave and fallen enemy by the incarceration of Jefferson Davis in Fortress Monroe—shackled and in chains! Ah! had the brave and unflinching followers of Lee and Jackson and Johnston and others foreseen their venerable and loved leader shackled and incarcerated in that foul dungeon at Fortress Monroe, our word for it, they would have cut their way through the Federal lines or they would have died trying, and before dying would have heaped their enemies on the field of Appomattox as high as that historic apple-tree, and their blood would have dyed its highest blossom and made red the waters of every river in the land.

Then let us build a monument to mark his last resting-place on earth that will be a living and prevailing testimonial of our ardent love and admiration for the man and the cause for which he fought so heroically, manfully and gallantly for four long and weary years.

Read his last public message to the people of North Carolina, through the Centennial Committee of Fayetteville, and how readily you are convinced that there was

"No waning of fire, no paling of ray,
But rising, still rising, as passing away.
Farewell gallant Eagle, thou art buried in height;
God speed the Heaven, lost star of our night."

Their Faith Unshaken.

The committee having in charge the conduct and direction of the Fife meetings at Greensboro immediately "took the bull by the horns" on the circulation of the injurious report from King's Mountain, affecting the character of Mr. Fife; and, acting with promptness and decision in making a full investigation, became convinced of the evangelist's innocence of the grave charges made against him, as is evidenced by the following, published in the Greensboro Daily Record of the 20th inst.:

WHEREAS, Rumors have been put afloat here and elsewhere, intended to affect the christian character and usefulness of the Evangelist W. P. Fife just upon the eve of the meetings in this city, which has been done by evil and designing persons; and whereas, the committee having in charge the said meeting have (in two meetings) had a number of letters and testimony exonerating him from all such charges, and his open and full information of the circumstances in the case, corroborated by a gentleman in person, who knows all the parties; now, therefore, be it

Resolved, That we are clearly of the opinion that the charges and rumors are wholly without the slightest foundation, and we shall hold up his hands by our prayers and bid him God speed in the good work, not only here, but wherever his lot may be cast, in the Master's work.

First Cotton Blossoms.

Mr. Jas. Evans, of Idaho fame, comes forward with the first cotton blossom of the season, taken from his farm last Monday, the 22nd. The "Captain" is of the opinion that this blossom could and should have been gathered on the day before (Sunday), and really thinks it was open as far back as Saturday, the 20th, but that being such a busy day at this season of the year he could not find time to look over his field. Capt. David Jones presented us with the first last year on the 24th of June.

Since the above was put in type we have received a blossom from Mr. J. C. Johnson, of Cedar Creek, gathered on the 20th.

Tuesday morning Capt. Jim Flowers brought in the first two blossoms from one stalk, while Tuesday afternoon's mail brought in another blossom from the field of Mr. M. J. McKay, the post master of Little River Academy, sent by Mr. D. D. McBryde, Jr., who will accept our thanks for his kind reference to the merits of the OBSERVER.

Mr. J. G. Fisher, of Roslin, sent in Wednesday a cotton bloom from his farm picked the day before—Tuesday.

Guilford Battle Ground Celebration July 4th.

To the committee in charge we are due and hereby tender our thanks for a handsomely designed card of invitation to the grand 4th of July celebration at the historic battle-field of Guilford Court-House next month. Hon. K. P. Battle, late President of the State University, has been selected as orator of the day, and has chosen for his subject the life and services of Gen. Jethro Sumner, of North Carolina. W. R. Laud, of Greensboro, has been elected chief marshal of the day, with power and authority to appoint twenty-five assistant marshals. There will be civic and military displays as well as other public festivities to make the day enjoyable. The park embracing the battle-field is seventy-five acres of shady groves and beautiful drives, and is watered by delicious springs of perpetual flow.

Hon. David Schenck, than whom there is no more patriotic son of the Old North State, is president of the company, and is giving the occasion his hearty support and encouragement—a fact within itself that guarantees a brilliant success, other things being equal.

List of Letters.

Following is the list of unclaimed letters remaining in the Fayetteville postoffice June 22nd, 1891:

Miss Lee Braswell, C. B. Bethea, Polly Bryant, Josiah Cook, Mary E. Dunn, Mariah Evans, E. H. Eubanks, Sylvester C. Goodwin, Steven Hall, Messrs. Hall & Gates, W. H. Howell, Emma Jones, Key & Co., Mrs. Sarah J. Kelly, S. J. King, E. L. Marshall, Bettie E. Mann, Miss Mole Maccel, W. T. Magee, Thos. Mercer, H. McPherson, D. A. McDonald, D. Page, Maggie Ray, Jas. A. Wheat Culture in Cumberland.

From a seven-acre field Mr. R. M. Nimocks has just harvested 216 bushels of good, well-developed and merchantable wheat, worth on this market to-day about $259.20, or a fraction over $37 per acre. This wheat was made with very little work—scarcely half the amount required for the cultivation of the same land in cotton last year, the yield of which would not equal that of this year from a dollars-and-cents standpoint, to say nothing of the extra amount of about 50 per cent. additional required for the cultivation and harvesting of cotton. All this suffices to show, and should convince the farmers of this and adjoining counties, that the cultivation of wheat can be as successfully prosecuted as that of cotton. Besides it would vouchsafe to the "tiller of the soil" an independence that he can in no other way ever hope to obtain, save only through a diversification of crops.

A diversification of industries will insure that independence and prosperity to a town that nothing else will bring it, and the same rule applies to the farmers. But if the farmer raises nothing but cotton he is forced to sell in the fall, whatever the prices may be; whereas if he has a diversity of crops he is oftentimes enabled to sell when the prices suit him. Until our people learn something of the value of diversification they will find that "Jordan is a hard road to travel."

Now for a Pleasant Time!

The good people of the world not only get ahead of us while at work but when, now and then, they lay aside serious cares and weighty responsiblities they are eminently successful in their plans for recreation or amusement—and here is the explanation of the fact that the picnics and excursions of our different Sunday-schools (who are all, of course, as good as gold) are always among the pleasantest events of the season.

Next Wednesday, July 1st, the Presbyterian Sunday-school teachers and pupils will take their annual "outing," to which they never fail to attract a large crowd of pleasantly anticipating people, bringing them back home brimful of enjoyment. They go to the "Hammocks," leaving here at 7 A. M., and making the trip through to the ocean without change of cars—there eagerly to breathe the bracing briney breeze, gracefully gambol in the glorious surf, and eat clams and pig-fish with the appetites of genuine backwoodsmen. Returning, the train will reach Fayetteville at 10 o'clock at night. A very reasonable rate has been fixed for the round-trip ticket, and a well-supplied lunch- and refreshment-car will be attached to the train.

Mutually Pleased.

Our people made many pleasant acquaintances and shook hands with not a few old friends among the nice Raleigh folks who came down on the excursion of the 16th inst., and we are glad to know by the following from the News and Observer of the 18th that they not only conferred but enjoyed a pleasure in coming:

Those who went to Fayetteville on the excursion of the Edenton Street Sunday School reported yesterday that they enjoyed a most delightful day, returning safely and without accident. The visitors received every attention and hospitality, and will always remember their visit to Fayetteville pleasantly.

Still another paragraph from the same paper we insert with pleasure:

Fayetteville is a grand old town, and its Odd Fellows are as noble a set of fellows as ever wore the three links. Some of the boys conferred one or two degrees upon candidates in the lodge-room during the day of the Sunday-school picnic. Raleigh Odd Fellows are always glad of an opportunity to visit Fayetteville. They know that if everybody else should fail them Grand Warden Dave Gaster would be on hand, and that assures a warm reception and generous welcome.

Hotel Townsend.

Divers and sundry wayfarers have already come thence, "carrying the news to Mary" that Red Springs is now inviting the general public to enjoy the accommodations of one of the best hotels in North Carolina, and the "knights of the road"—shrewd fellows, who know a good thing when they see it (and taste it)—are coming away reluctantly, swinging the "grips," with the bottom vest-button loose, and lauding Phil Wright as the prince of caterers; but the grand opening of the Hotel Townsend is to take place next Tuesday evening, 30th inst., ushered in with strains of sweet music, mazes of the graceful dance, female loveliness adorned with ravishing toilettes, and male gallantry swathed in the irreproachable "claw-hammer" coat—and "yourself and ladies are expected to be present."

On Tuesday afternoon a special train will be run to Red Springs for the accommodation of those wishing to attend the opening ball and german, which will return that night after the festivities.

Business Failures Last Week.

NEW YORK, June 19.—Dun's weekly report says: Business failures occurring throughout the country during the past week number, for the United States, 224; Canada, 29; total, 253, against 244 last week.

Murderers Sent to Jail.

LAURINBURG, N. C., June 16.—The murderers of Albert Smith, who was found dead in the road near here last Sunday morning, were sent to jail to-day. Der rich David and Jerry, his son, were, as the coroner's jury believes, the guilty men.

The Good Old Times.

Then times were good,
Merchants cared not a rush
For any other fare,
Than Johnny cake and mush."

But now times have changed, and the plain and simple fare of the forefathers is done away with. Patent flour, and high seasoned food and strong drinks have taken its place, and, as a result, dyspepsia, impure blood and diseases of the stomach, liver and lungs are numerous. This great change has led one of the most skillful physicians of the age to study out a remedy for these modern diseases, which he has named his "Golden Medical Discovery." Dr. Pierce in this remedy has found a cure for Dyspepsia, Bronchitis, Asthma, Consumption, in its early stages, and "Liver Complaints."

Personal Penclings.

Dr. S. J. Hinsdale went up to Raleigh last Tuesday for a brief visit.

Mr. E. L. Pemberton spent Sunday with his family at Carolina Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. D. McD. Grady are spending some time at the seashore.

Mrs. H. McD. Robinson and Miss Alice Hawley left for the seashore last week.

Rev. T. P. Barclay is drinking the health-giving waters of Red Springs this week.

Mr. J. D. McNeill's family are summering it at Carolina Beach and Wilmington.

Rev. and Mrs. W. B. Oliver are enjoying the sea breezes at Wrightsville this week.

We were glad to see Mr. Samuel Haas, a former resident of Fayetteville, in this city this week.

Prof. Monroe, the talented principal of Lumber Bridge High School, was on our streets awhile Monday.

Rev. Father Francis will hold services in the Catholic church here next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock.

It gives us pleasure to meet Mrs. Heman R. Hall, of Greensboro, who is making a visit to relatives and friends in this city.

Rev. J. N. H. Summerell, of Tarboro, a noted divine, polished and graceful speaker, will preach in the Presbyterian Church here next Sunday.

Mr. W. L. Crawford, of Tarboro, has located in Fayetteville with a view to conducting a merchant tailoring business. We wish him great success.

Mrs. Susan Hall, after a visit of some duration with friends in this section, returned to Hickory this week, accompanied by her daughter-in-law, Mrs Addie Hall, of Bladen.

Mr. Walter Watson and family left on the steamer Murchison yesterday for the sea shore, where they go to for the remainder of the "heated term," and will occupy their cottage at Carolina Beach.

We have been pleased to receive a visit this week from Messrs. A. H. McNeill and —. —. Evans, who spent a day or two in Fayetteville in the interest of the well-known Grimm Brownstone Company of Moore county.

Col. K. M. Murchison, of New York, a gentleman of extensive acquaintance, large influence and a strong friend to Fayetteville, was here a short while this week, to the delight of his host of friends in the Cape Fear metropolis.

Mr. John McRae, of Gulf, Chatham county, N. C., was in town this week, and found many old friends to shake him warmly by the hand. He was known in the army as "Old Reliable," and that is the soubriquet he has deserved all his life—you know just where to find him.

Ten Machines in One—Cake Beater, Churn, Egg Beater, Ice-Cream Freezer, Fruit Whip, Light Dough Kneader, Cream Whip, Drink Mixer, Potato Masher and Vegetable Whip.

ICE-CREAM IN 5 MINUTES.

The above machine will be found a most useful article to all housekeepers. The time and materials saved by its use, will, in a few days, pay for it at the very low price of $1.50.

Marion Harland, says:

In every trial we have given the Keystone Beater we have been successful. That peine forte et dure of busy cooks, the making Mayonnaise dressing, is reduced to a bagatelle.

Mrs. Rorer, Principal Philadelphia Cooking School, says:

I have thoroughly tested the merits of the Keystone Beater, and unhesitatingly pronounce it superior to any device I have ever seen or used for the purpose designed.

John Wannamaker, says:

Two thousand Keystone Beaters sold in one month. Not one brought back. They stand the test of use.

We guarantee that you will be satisfied, and get the worth of your money.

We have secured the agency for these Beaters. Come at once and get one from the first shipment.

There are several in use already in town. Ask your friends who have them as to their merits. A 50 cent cook book given with each Beater.

Cure of Disease Without Medicine

BASED on new theories of the cause and cure of disease, it deals with the electrical and magnetic conditions of the body and the gases surrounding it in the atmosphere, controlling these conditions at will. It is not electricity.

DISEASE is simply impaired vitality. The Electropoise constantly adds to the vitality and only assists nature, in nature's way, to throw off the trouble. Nothing is easier of proof than that, with this treatment, cures are made which by all other known means are impossible.

ACUTE CASES of all kinds are cured in hours by its random use.

One-tenth the intelligence and perseverance devoted to ordinary methods of medication works miracles in all CHRONIC CASES.

Sweetheart, Good Bye.

The sun fades out of the purple west,
The sleepy songsters have gone to rest,
The dew is over the rose's breast,
Dear love—good-bye!
The shadows lengthen down the lane,
The crickets whistle a shrill refrain,
Sad night approaches with starry train,
Dear love—good-bye!

The cold stars twinkle in yon blue sky,
So clear and silent, so vast and high,
The moon's cloud-chariot rolleth by,
Sweetheart—farewell!
Day will dawn chill in the pallid morn,
No roseate flushes the east adorn,
So my days without thee will be all forlorn,
Sweetheart—farewell!

O blue eyes, weave ye no sorrowful spell,
O red lips, frame ye no sad farewell?
O true heart, love's sweet story tell,
Sweetheart—good-bye!
Whisper with lips that are trembling, sweet,
Vows that a lover would have you repeat,
Then say farewell, for the hours are fleet,
Sweetheart—good-bye!

Filling the Vacuum.

C. M. Sanders in Southern Cultivator.]

How shall we supplement the short oat crop? It is very evident at this time that the oat crop will be unusually short, both on account of the small acreage put in, and from the evil effects of the recent drought. This deficiency can be made good to a large extent by putting stubble land in peas, either planted in drills and cultivated or sown broadcast. The former will usually give a larger yield of peas, the latter a larger yield of vines. This work can be done at any time between the 1st of May and the 15th of July. Probably the best time for sowing in drills is from the 5th to 30th of June. This, too, brings the cultivation on after the push of the cotton crop is over; when sown broadcast for hay they will usually give a larger yield by being sown during the month of May.

Pea-vine hay comes nearer taking the place of sheath oats than anything else that I have ever tried. If it is desired to have the vines as free as possible from crab grass, turn the land with a good two-horse plow, inverting the sod completely, and harrow in one and one-quarter bushels of peas per acre. If this is done after a good rain the peas will come up at once and take entire possession of the land before the grass can get a start. The Acme or Cutaway harrow is a good tool for this purpose. If it is preferred to have some crab grass with the pea hay, then the land may be broken with one-horse plows, three pecks of peas sown per acre, or one-half bushel will answer very well. In either case the peas should be harrowed in, as they will come up more uniformly, and the ground left in proper condition for mowing.

I generally perfer to have some crab grass with my vines, as the hay can be cured more easily and rapidly.

There is no crop on which a small quanitity of fertilizer shows to better advantage than on peas. One hundred pounds per acre even will make a vast difference in the crop. I have been much pleased with a mixture of 100 pounds meal and 400 pounds acid phosphate as a fertilizer for peas. If the peas are sown broadcast not less than 200 pounds of this mixture should be applied to the acre.

Brother farmers, let me beg you to sow peas. The benefit to the land will be worth the seed and the cost of putting in, and you will have the hay crop simply for the cutting and hauling to the barn, and your mules will work just as well on this provender, and keep in as good condition, as if fed on oats, or corn and fodder.

In another article I will give my method of curing pea vines, which is simple, and has answered me very well.

Beet Sugar.

Says a Nebraska beet-sugar man: "Here is a prediction that will startle you, but it will be fulfilled in every particular. Within one decade the States west of Ohio will produce enough beet sugar to supply the entire demand of the country, and that notwithstanding the alleged cheapness of the cane product. The home-made and home-grown product will supplant the foriegn article. Illinois, Nebraska and California have the best soil for the growth of sugar-producing beets. Capitalists have great confidence in the future of this industry, and are investing large sums in it. I have just completed two refineries—one at Grand Island, Neb., and the other at Pomona, Cal.—the cost of each being $600,000. We shall begin work on another plant at Norfolk, Neb., next month."

Use Brains and New Methods.

There is a good deal of sound logic in a waif which we find in an exchange. It declares, substantially, that the young man who is trying to run a farm in the same way his father and grandfather and great-grandfather did, had better sell out or try some new methods, unless he wants to make a failure of the business. The old time methods are past and gone, and cannot be made successful at the present day. Men in all professions and branches of industry are tending towards specialties, and if farmers want to keep up with the times and their brother soil-tillers they must do the same. Some farms are adapted to stock-raising, others to grain-growing, and still others to fruit-culture. Let every one pick out that branch which he likes, and to which his farm is adapted, and then concentrate his thoughts and energies on that, and determine to make it a success.

Cure for Roup.

Poultry Keeper.]

Take bromo-chloralum, and dilute it one half with water. Inject two or thee drops in each nostril once a day. Give each fowl as a drink, once a day, two grains of bromide of potassium and one grain of quinine in a tablespoonful of milk or warm water, forcing it if necessary. Keep the sick fowls in a warm, dry place where there are no cracks in the walls to let in draughts, and, above all, avoid top ventilation, which allows the cold air to blow down on the fowls. If the eyes and face are swollen rub them with a few drops of a mixture of one tablespoonful each of castor oil and glycerine, to which have been added five drops of carbolic acid and twenty drops of spirits turpentine, well-mixed.

A Flower that Changes Color Daily.

During the summer of 1890 the botanists made a wonderful discovery in Tehuantepec, having established the fact beyond a doubt that the native "hinta" has a flower that changes its color three or more times each day when the weather is favorable. In the morning it is white; at noon it has changed to a deep red; at night it is blue. It is even claimed that some individual trees of this species have a flower that changes to many intermediate hues during the night. There are only two hours out of twenty-four—from 11 A. M. to 1 P. M.—that this rarity gives out a perfume.

AN OPEN LETTER.

Virginia and North Carolina Agency,

Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Co,

No. 1,108 Main Street,

RICHMOND, VA., April 20, 1891.

To Our Policyholders and the Public:

The first dividends on Tontine Policies in the Northwestern Mutual Life Insurance Company, to be paid this year, 1891, will be from 40 to 60 per cent. larger than similar Tontine Dividends in New York Companies. A premonition of this portentous truth has made the agents of other companies more industrious than ever in circulating attacks upon the Northwestern, and endeavoring to show by false ratios and delusive figures that the "Northwestern's dividends have been falling off." There are too many of these attacks, anonymous and otherwise, to answer them individually, and Northwestern agents are too busy writing new business to notice in detail all these charges, many of which they have already exploded, and some of which are self-explosive, carrying on their face their own easy refutation.

If you are seriously thinking of Life Insurance, and are looking for that Company which will make you the largest returns, and consequently give you in the end the cheapest insurance, please invite the agent of any company making these attacks to go with you to the office of the nearest Northwestern agent, and if it can be proved: first, that the Northwestern's dividends are running down; or second, that the Northwestern's dividends on similar policies are not very much larger than the dividends of the companies whose agents are circulating these attacks, then the Northwestern agent will agree willingly and forever to retire from the Life Insurance business, and leave the field free to the attacking companies. Nobody objects to fair play, and certainly no agent of an attacking company ought to decline the opportunity of proving the assertions he has been circulating so broadcast against a competitor.

We want no business and ask for no man's application unless we can prove that the Northwestern will do better by him than any other company.

As an illustration of the truth of this assertion we append the following record of two leading companies on the life of the well-known Jno. H. Schoolfield, of Danville, Va., issued in 1889: same age (51), same amount ($10,000)—ordinary life plan—dividends used in cash to reduce premiums:

	Equitable.	Northwestern.
No. of Policy,	421,920	184,223
Annual Premium,	$494.60	$498.90
Cash Dividends 1890 & 1891,	94.50	131.97

Now, again, let us suppose that you were going to buy bank stock of two or more banks, and one declared dividends to the amount of $131.97 and the other $94.50, which would you select, the former or the latter? Why the former, to be sure. Then if you exercise the same good judgment in insurance that you would in buying bank stock, certainly you would place your insurance with the Northwestern Mutual.

$3000 A YEAR! I undertake to briefly teach any fairly intelligent person of either sex, who can read and write, and who, after instruction, will work industriously, how to earn Three Thousand Dollars a year in their own localities, wherever they live. I will also furnish the situation or employment at which you can earn that amount. No money for me unless successful as above. Easily and quickly learned. I desire but one worker from each district or county. I have already taught and provided with employment a large number, who are making over $3000 a year each. It's NEW and 8&9 LTD. Full particulars FREE. Address at once, E. C. ALLEN, Box 420, Augusta, Maine.
